

ClimateHaven (New Haven, CT)

ClimateHaven is a community of climatetech entrepreneurs and the passionate people that support them, rooted in New Haven, Connecticut. We are developing a best-in-class office and lab facility, accelerator program, corporate engagement program, and investor program, focused on supporting the climate entrepreneur at the core of our community. Our mission is to restructure the energy economy through innovations across all climate verticals and emerging spaces. We aim to be a leading center of global collaborators working to build technologies and new ventures to decarbonize and develop renewable energy.
