

SecondWind Material Ventures

Democratizing Composites Through End-of-Life Wind Turbine Blades

Reclaiming and repurposing fiber-reinforced polymer (FRP) composites, specifically targeting end-of-life (EOL) wind turbine blades to capitalize on the intrinsic engineered characteristics of the native composite structures making them suitable for high-value applications.

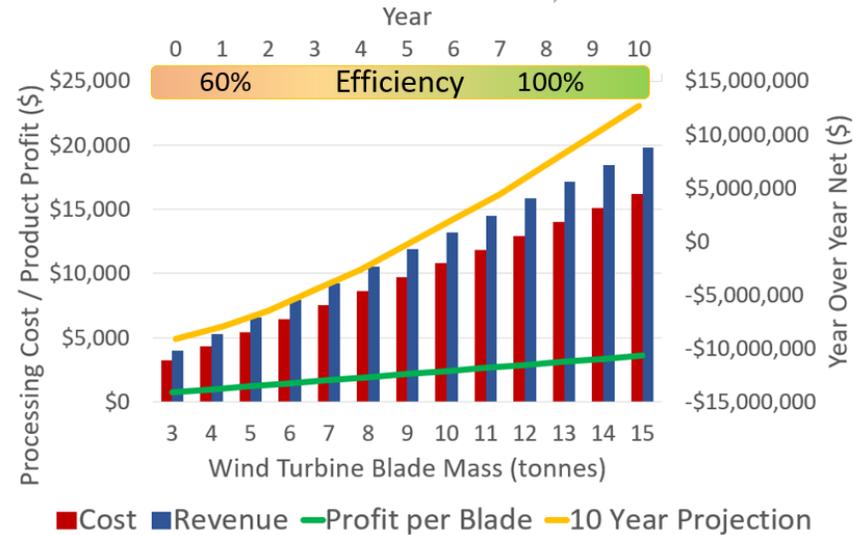

Disassembly & Remanufacturing

Suitable for applications across commercial industrial and residential / consumer markets.

Economic Potential

Key Material Considerations

	Composites	Aluminum	Steel	Wood
Cost	★	●	●	●
Weight	●	●	●	●
Strength	●	●	●	●
Environment	●	●	●	●

★ OPPORTUNITY
 ● BEST
 ● BETTER
 ● GOOD